

Argosy University, Salt Lake City Complimentary Marital Checkup

Marriage and Family Therapy & Mental Health Counseling Programs are Offering Complimentary Marital Checkups. This is a service to any couple that wishes to learn more about the health and quality of their marriage through a professional evaluation. The marital checkup is not therapy. You have your car tuned up regularly and you go for a physical exam when needed.

This is a chance to tune up your marriage and make a good marriage great.

The Marital Checkup requires three hours. You schedule a two hour assesment session and a one hour feedback session or two one hour assessments sessions plus the feedback session. In the assessment sessions you will share information about how the two of you met and so on.

In the second assessment hour you will share how the two of you communicate and problem-solve. After you complete some questionnaires you will meet in the feedback session to review your marital strengths and any areas that could be improved.

You may to use the information as you please. To arrange for an appointment, please call 801.601.4920 during regular Clinic business hours, Monday through Friday. Ask for a complimentary Marital Checkup. Please see map on back for directions.
